

2015–2016 Scholar-in-Residence Global Environmental Constitutionalism

Sponsored by Global Environmental and Natural Resources Law Institute at Widener University Delaware Law School

Marcelo Buzaglo Dantas
Environmental Law Professor,
School of Preparation and Improvement of the Public
Ministry of Santa Catarina;
Partner, Buzaglo Dantas
Advogados, Brazil

October 11–15, 2015

“Constitutional Environmental Law in Brazil”

Melanie Murcott
Senior Lecturer, University of Pretoria, South Africa

March 21–25, 2016

*“Towards a Legal Theory of Transformative Constitutional
Environmentalism in South Africa”*

Rob Fowler
Adjunct Professor, Law School at the University of South Australia

November 1–9, 2015

“Federalism, Environmental Management and Climate Change—Comparing the U.S. and Australian Experience”

Irma Russell
Professor of Law and Edward A.
Smith Chair, University of Missouri-
Kansas City School of Law

April 18–25, 2016

“The Constitution and Direct Democracy: Citizen Participation in Environmental Law and Regulation”

Carl Bruch
Senior Attorney/Co-Director,
International Programs,
Environmental Law Institute,
Washington, DC; Adjunct
Professor, Johns Hopkins University

January 18–22, 2016

“Power Sharing and Natural Resources in Post-Conflict Constitutions”

Comments/Questions:

Faculty Series Chair: James R. May, B.S.M.E., CEIT, J.D., LL.M., Esq.
Chief Sustainability Officer, Widener University; Distinguished Professor of Law; Director, the Global Environmental and Natural Resources
Law Institute; Professor of Graduate Engineering (Adjunct)

Widener University Delaware Law School
4601 Concord Pike, Wilmington, DE 19803-0406
t: 302-477-2060 e: jrmay@widener.edu