10. Students with Disabilities

Please contact the Office of Student Affairs immediately at 302-477-2142 to request any reasonable accommodation due to a disability. If you seek accommodations as a result of a learning disability or other disability which is not readily apparent, please submit medical documentation describing the disability and indicating the type of accommodation requested. This documentation will be required by the Dean of Students in order to make the necessary accommodation upon matriculation.

The University's ADA Coordinator will make an independent assessment of all accommodation requests. If you are granted examination accommodations at the Law School, you should be aware that the Board of Law Examiners in the jurisdictions(s) where you seek to sit for the bar examination may not base their decision (on accommodations) on your receipt of examination accommodations in law school. The standard for granting accommodations and the documentation required by each jurisdiction may be different from the Law School requirement.

11. Character and Fitness Disclosure

In addition to a bar examination, there are character, fitness and other qualifications for admission to the bar in every U.S. jurisdiction. Applicants are encouraged to determine the requirements for any jurisdiction in which they intend to seek admission by contacting the jurisdiction. Addresses for all relevant agencies are available through the National Conference of Bar Examiners at ncbex.org

Moreover, as indicated in the Widener University Delaware Law School application:

“Any false or misleading statement, incomplete or inaccurate information, omissions of required information or failure to update changes in information in this application may cause you to be denied admission, OR if admitted, to be dismissed from the law school or cause your degree to be revoked by the Dean, and may jeopardize licensure with the Boards of Bar Examiners.”

You have a continuing duty to update the information you provided in response to the Character and Fitness section of the Law School application. Please notify our office of any academic or disciplinary actions occurring after submission of your application. In the event that there have been incidents which would cause you to change your response to the Character and Fitness question on the law school application, please provide us with a revised response, including a detailed explanation of the incident(s).

Responses to the character and fitness question on law school applications are reviewed by bar examiners in many jurisdictions. Any discrepancies may adversely affect your admission to the bar.
