

Daniel Q. Harrington, Esquire

Dan Harrington is a shareholder at Cozen O'Connor, where he has worked since 1984. Dan's practice focuses on the pursuit of product liability and negligence claims in connection with major property damage losses suffered by businesses, homeowners, and their insurers. Dan has also represented clients in commercial disputes, such as tortious interference, wrongful termination, and breach of warranty claims. He is a member of Cozen O'Connor's Professional Responsibility Committee, which guides the firm and its 700-plus lawyers on ethics and professional responsibility issues.

Dan has served as Chair of the Pennsylvania Bar Association Committee on Legal Ethics and Professional Responsibility since 2016. He is also Chair of the New Jersey Supreme Court's District IV Ethics Committee, which conducts attorney ethics investigations in Camden and Gloucester counties. He also serves as an adjunct professor of trial advocacy at the Beasley School of Law at Temple University.

Dan is a frequent author and speaker on issues related to subrogation and the investigation and pursuit of property damage claims, and regarding legal ethics and professional responsibility. He is co-author of the chapter on "Conflicts of Interest" in the Pennsylvania Bar Association's Ethics Handbook.

Dan earned his Bachelor of Arts (with high distinction) at the University of Iowa in 1979 and his law degree, also at the University of Iowa (and also with high distinction), in 1981. He was admitted to practice in Minnesota in 1981, in Pennsylvania and New Jersey in 1984, and in New York in 1992.
