

Bruce W. Tigani, Esquire

Bruce W. Tigani chairs the Morris James' Tax, Estates & Business Practice Group. With a law career spanning over 30 years, he maintains a broad-based business, tax, healthcare, trusts, and real estate practice. In providing clients an integrated focus to both transactional and planning aspects essential to their needs, Bruce delivers a comprehensive and coordinated approach to representation of regionally based closely held businesses, professional practices, and individuals.

In addition, Bruce regularly counsels domestic and foreign business owners, investors, and entrepreneurs seeking tax-efficient entity organization and governance within the broad array of Delaware's flexible operational structures, including the effective use of subsidiaries. His proficiency in federal tax law, as well as state and local tax issues across the region and beyond, provides the common thread throughout in uniquely blending sound transactional principles with innovative and efficient tax strategies to deliver an unparalleled approach to comprehensive representation in mergers & acquisitions, corporate reorganizations & recapitalizations, and tax-deferred exchanges.

Bruce represents both companies and individuals in a variety of interrelated areas, including the purchase and sale of assets or stock, and other business transactions; tax planning & controversies; strategic business & succession planning; healthcare law & medical practices, including regulatory and practice integration strategies; wealth transfer & estate planning, including dynasty and other Delaware-advantaged trusts; real estate acquisition & financing; estate and trust administration; and commercial transactions.

With his practice encompassing a broad range of complex business-related and private client services, Bruce also advises clients across the country seeking to take advantage of the unique opportunities Delaware offers trusts, corporations, and alternative entities. As a registered lobbyist, he has been instrumental in the drafting and passage of key legislation relating to Delaware businesses and trusts, as well as professional service corporations and the promotion of efficient delivery of healthcare by medical practitioners.

Bruce's multidisciplinary experience and proactive approach underscores the integrated alignment of his clients' personal and business-related tax, commercial, and estate planning objectives.

Bruce is admitted to practice in Delaware and Pennsylvania, as well as the U.S. Tax Court.
